

Working with Early Years

Early Years – the Organisation for young children is the largest Organisation in Northern Ireland for young children. It is a non-profit making Organisation which has been working since 1965 to promote high quality childcare for children aged 0-12 and their families. Early Years is a membership-based Organisation, a registered charity, a company limited by guarantee and is governed by a Board of Directors.

Early Years Values and Behaviours

Early Years is committed to providing an exceptional service to our members and service users. Our values serve not only to define what it looks like to work in Early Years but also demonstrate a high respect culture for all those in this community – children and their parents and carers, members, partners and other users of our services. Behaviours are critical factors that characterise how we work together. These will distinguish what really makes working at Early Years 'distinctive'. We all need support to ensure we have the necessary skills and knowledge to undertake our roles effectively, but the behaviours go beyond this to communicate the 'Early Years way of working'.

Working ethically is intrinsic in all that we do:

"We should endeavour to work fairly, with honesty and transparency; everything we do has to stand the test of public scrutiny. We should be caring and responsible for our actions, show respect for our colleagues, and always work for the benefit of the communities we serve, spaces we inhabit and culture we create.

To deliver the vision, a range of key services is provided, as shown below:

Early Years Support Services – a team of Early Years Specialists provides a range of programmes, services and curriculum support to member groups, practitioners, parents and those providing services in the early years sector.

Membership Information Services – members receive support from a dedicated Early Years Specialist and can avail of a number of benefits, including access to a successful lobbying Organisation, preferential rates with third party suppliers, a highly competitive insurance package, access to quality advisory and training support, and membership discount on publications and training materials.

Training – training is provided to member groups, parents, adults working with young children in pre-school settings, SureStart projects, nursery and foundation stage classes, management committees and other professionals in the sector, as well as our own staff.

HighScope – a team of specialist practitioners within Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland supports settings using the HighScope curriculum – this approach has been researched, developed and shaped by knowledge and understanding over a 40 year period.

CORAL (Children, Outcomes, Research, Action, Learning) Initiative – this initiative is aimed at demonstrably improving outcomes and includes two programmes, the Media Initiative for Children Respecting Difference Programme (hereinafter called MIFC Respecting Difference Programme) and the Eager and Able to Learn Programme, which have been subjected to random controlled evaluations with the aim of tracking how the work of the Organisation and member groups improves long-term outcomes for young children, using evidence-based practice and policy advocacy.

Community Development – the Organisation provides training and support to the pre-school sector, and parents and communities, to build capacity within local communities by using the key principles of community development.

SureStart – SureStart is a government-led, child-focused, community-based initiative aimed at giving every child the best possible start in life. Early Years employs 80 staff in SureStart projects in Northern Ireland and provides strategic direction in its role as Lead Body of five SureStart projects.

Toybox – the Toybox Project is a rights-based service model which aims to reduce significantly the educational inequalities experienced by young Traveller children, through the delivery of an outreach play-based early intervention service provided in partnership with children and parents.

Accreditation – Early Years delivers accreditation programmes for pre-school and daycare settings. Developed in line with international research on best practice in early years care and education, the process provides external verification on the high quality nature of a setting's service provision.

Lobbying and Advocacy – policy influence is supported by a research and evidence-based practice programme to establish evidence on delivering best outcomes for young children. Key components of this work include a Director of Knowledge Exchange, a Policy Officer, ongoing lobbying of politicians and policy makers, a media relations strategy and grassroots mobilisation of members.

International Work – the Organisation carries out activities across an international network of partners, including a project within Serbia to deliver a pre-school expansion programme and an International Network on Peace Building, leading the sharing of best practice across countries experiencing conflict and post-conflict situations.

New Projects – Early Years continues to innovate and diversify in the number and range of projects it delivers in order to achieve the vision of the Organisation. An example of a new project is UP4iT! which is a family-based obesity prevention and obesity management programme being delivered in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area.
